FARM NEWS

CORN CONTEST
Chamber of Commerce Manager, O. I. Cunningham and I attended a Corn Contest Meeting in Ozark a few days ago to complete plans for the contest this year.

I believe that all the rules that were in effect last year were adopted for 1966. 51 adults and young farmers participated in the contest in 1965 and we hope to have more participants this year. The whole purpose of the contest is to increase corn production in this county.

SCHOLARSHIPS
Charles F. Simmons, Associate Dean of the School of Agriculture, sent a list of scholarships available to boys entering the School of Agriculture at Auburn. Most of these scholarships have a value of $300 and they are provided by the following companies: Alabama Farm Bureau Insurance Companies; Alabama Soil Fertility Society (for Agronomy majors); John W. Pace Memorial; Kroger Grocery Company; Sears-Roebuck Foundation; Mary Hall Ware (Horticulture); Garden Club of Alabama (Horticulture); and Stevens Industries.

A $1000 WTVU scholarship is also available for boys in the viewing area.

4-H PEANUT CONTEST
The Alabama Peanut Producers Association in cooperation with the Auburn University Extension Service is providing $1500 annually in prizes to counties doing the best job in peanut education work. We did not place in the money this last year but with several boys participating this year, we believe that our boys can win some of this money. Prizes for each county will be as follows: 1st, $500; 2nd $400; 3rd $300; 4th $200; and 5th $100.

MASTER FARMER
The Frank Britt Family had a wonderful night at the Master Farm Family awards in Auburn last week. Mrs. Hutchinson and I attended along with Mrs. J. Robert Wise from Kinston. The Britt's were recognized for their excellent farm activities but participation in community and church activities as well. Ten families from throughout the state were honored. We are indeed proud of the Frank Britt Family.

4-H PLANNING GROUP
We had three excellent 4-H Club Planning Meetings a few days ago involving 4-H Club Presidents and Vice-Presidents from all clubs in the county. The purpose of these meetings was to get suggestions from these officers on ways to improve the monthly meetings, an expanded awards program, meaning for project work, and better 4-H records. Some of the school officers were 100% in attendance. Leaders and parents at Auburn. Most of these scholarships have a value of $300 and they are provided by the following companies: Alabama Farm Bureau Insurance Companies; Alabama Soil Fertility Society (for Agronomy majors); John W. Pace Memorial; Kroger Grocery Company; Sears-Roebuck Foundation; Mary Hall Ware (Horticulture); Garden Club of Alabama (Horticulture); and Stevens Industries.

ELECTRIC BLENDER HAS TIMESAVING ADVANTAGES
The versatile and time-saving advantages of the electric blender have been pointed out for home-makers by Mrs. Mary Catherine Beasley, University of Alabama assistant professor of home economics. She said with a blender the busy cook can make mayonnaise in two minutes; puddings and sauces thickened with eggs have better flavor than those thickened with cornstarch or flour.

Never clean leather upholstery with furniture polish. Clean it with a mild soap and a damp cloth.

If shirt sleeves are too long, have the cuffs taken off, the sleeves shortened and then cuffs replaced.

cake frosting in 30 seconds; potato pancake batter in one minute; real butter in one to two minutes. The blender is excellent also for making peanut butter, milk shakes, a powdered sugar substitute, and cheaper and better-tasting baby food, she said.

AN UNUSUAL BUSINESS

Next May 21, an unusual nationwide celebration will take place. It will mark the 25th anniversary of the Tree Farm Movement. This was one of the more important achievements of our time. Trees are an essential part of our economy, of our living standards, of just about everything that makes for an advanced civilization. One could hardly conceive of a nation such as ours without forest resources. Yet, not so very long ago, that danger appeared. It has since seemed that our forests were limitless. All that had to be done was to cut and move on to new stands. Then, finally, it was seen that the forests were going, and there would be a time when they would be entirely gone unless something unprecedented in this country was done.

The answer was the tree farm. Its purpose is to assure a perpetual supply of timber. That purpose has been realized. The growth of new trees, planted and nurtured and protected on the farms, now actually exceeds the cut. It is, in many ways, a unique business. The tree farmer must constantly fight the natural enemies of forests—fire, disease, and insects. He must build roads and employ labor. He must pay taxes. Yet, depending on varieties and areas, the crop may not be ready for market for a great many years—more than a century in some cases.

Fortunately, government has recognized this unique situation as a general rule. It has established tax systems for the tree farmer which encourage him to continue his work and give him a reasonable chance for a fair profit when the far-off marketing time arrives. And the nation benefits from such wise and foresighted tax policies.

VOLUME 68

ELBA, ALABAMA, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 1966

Tax Collector Accepting Late Poll Tax

Coffee County Tax Collector, James Sawyer, stated in the office of this newspaper that he is still accepting poll tax from people who have registered to vote since August 10, 1965. This action is in accordance with the Voter Registration Act of 1965 which states in part that "no person who first listed or registered on or after August 10, 1965 may be denied the right to vote in the May primary for failure to pay a poll tax if he paid $1.00 to the Tax Collector or federal examiner on or before March 18, 1966."

The above statement is in conflict with the state laws which read that the poll tax must be paid before October 1st and February 1st, but Sawyer said that if anyone offered to pay that he would accept it and issue a receipt with the amount and the date the party registered noted on it and submit this list to the probate judge at the end of this time.

The poll tax in the state of Alabama goes to schools and any extra money collected can be well spent to raise the overall education level in Alabama.

The Justice Department has stated that if the tax collector does not accept this money it could be used as an excuse to send federal examiners to Coffee County.

Elba Native In Race For Governor

FORMER GOVERNOR James E. (Big Jim) Folsom, a native of Elba, has qualified for nomination to serve a third term in the state's highest office.

Folsom, along with most of the other candidates, has not gotten his campaign into full swing as of yet but can be expected to give anyone colorful and active competition whatever the campaign issues. Probably his best known slogan in the past was "YALP COME" and it can be expected that this slogan will bring in the near future unless Big Jim comes up with another one that he thinks will stay on the lips of the voters longer.

Other qualifying candidates for governor include Ryan DeGriffen, Carl Elliott, Mrs. Delores Price, Sherman Powell, former John Patterson, Charles Woods, A.W. Todd and C. Rex Scott.

Trade School Honor Roll

The following students in the Business Department at Doan's MacArthur State Trade School, Opp, made the honor roll for the first grading period ending January 31, 1966 according to C.E. Nevins, Director, A Honor Roll/Gloria Armstrong, Opp, Alabama; B Honor Roll: Lillie Basky, Opp, Alabama; Elizabeth Bass, Andalusia, Alabama; Freda Baker, Florida, Alabama; Onzel Caytor, Andalusia, Alabama; Paya Finkner, Opp, Alabama; Hazel Goodman, Andalusia, Alabama; Wayne Knox, Andalusia, Alabama; Kathy Legg, Troy, Alabama; Wynette Rhodes, Kinston, Alabama; Curtis McLeod, Goshen, Alabama; Cleopha Nobles, Kinston, Alabama.

Several offices have only one person, the incumbent, bidding for the nomination and the Coffee County seat in the State House of Representatives has no candidates, though it is expected that the incumbent, Drexal Cook, will qualify for renomination and not seek a seat in the State Senate now held by Ray Lolley, of Enterprise.

The course of study for these workshops will be the recently published "Bulk Milk Haulers Manual" developed by the Alabama Department of Public Health and the Auburn University Extension Service Division.

The workshop will be devoted to a detailed study of this manual under the professional guidance of Russell Wright, Director, Division of Inspection, Bureau of Sanitation, Alabama Department of Public Health; John Phillips, Extension Sanitarian, Alabama Department of Public Health; John Dairymen, Doctor Robert V. Cannon, Professor of Dairy Science, and Doctor K. M. Autrey, Head, Department of Dairy Science, Auburn University.

This workshop represents a cooperative effort of the Alabama Public Health Department, Houston, Alabama, and the Alabama County Health Departments will also attend.

There was no business other than discussion of minor administrative matters at the City Council meeting Monday night.

You May Be Suffering From Coryza

If your nose is stuffy and you have difficulty breathing, chances are you're suffering from one of the most widespread and prevalent of all diseases—coryza.

Chilling and overheating make a person particularly susceptible to coryza, which is why it is so prevalent at this time of the year.

There is no known cure, although it is relatively minor, coryza causes an annual loss of more than $5 billion each year in the United States alone in terms of time lost from work, wages lost, and the cost of treating the disease and its complications.

Persons of all ages are susceptible to coryza, but preschool youngsters seem to be most susceptible. More than 30 million illnesses each year in America can preschool youngsters are caused by coryza.

William Henry Harrison, ninth president of the United States, delivered his inaugural address on a cold, windy day and caught coryza. This developed into pneumonia and he died a month later.

Coryza is what keeps handkerchief makers and tissue manufacturers in business. It is popularly known as the common head cold.

Only a few days remain of this Evangelistic Crusade and the Methodist Church near you again invites you to join with Methodists and participate in this venture. In Faith, Reverend Henry H. Mrs. Duncan went to Mobile recently to see Kathy and says that Kathy is expected to return to Elba this Saturday if her condition continues as it is now. She will be in a full body cast and confined to the Elba General Hospital for three or four months.

A plea was sent out recently for funds to help with Kathy's hospital bills and many people stated they would give when it was needed and Mrs. Duncan says that now is when it is needed.

The money can be deposited at either Elba bank or delivered to Mrs. Winston at the hospital.

Andrews To Run For Re-election

Corn Muffin Sandwich

A relaxed evening of television or reading calls for a supper that's quick and easy. One especially easy to make is the Corn Muffin Sandwich, hearty with baked ham, red apple and cheese. A mustard horseradish spread adds zip.

The crisp, golden "baked" slices for this sandwich are halves of large round corn muffins. Bake the muffins first in five-inch baking pans. In a square baking pan.

The corn muffins are tasty contributors of six important nutrients—thiamine, niacin, riboflavin, iron, calcium and protein—thanks to the enriched self-rising corn meal used in their preparation. The incorporation of baking powder and salt into self-rising corn meal speeds preparation, too, by eliminating measuring steps.

CORN MUFFIN SANDWICH
8 or 9 servings

8 Corn Muffins or 9 Corn Bread Squares
1/2 cup butter or margarine, softened
4 teaspoons prepared horseradish
Bake Corn Muffins or Corn Bread Squares; then preheat broiler. Set out baking sheet. Blend butter or margarine, horseradish and mustard. Slice muffins or squares crosswise in half. Spread with butter mixture and place on baking sheet. Cover bottoms with ham, apples and cheese. Broil tops and bottoms just until cheese melts. Serve immediately, open-faced.

Corn Meal Muffins or Corn Bread Squares
Grease eight 5-inch baking dishes or a 9-inch square pan. Preheat oven to 425°. Combine 2 1/2 cups enriched self-rising corn meal, 2 tablespoons sugar and 1 tablespoon dried shredded green onions. Blend 2 beaten eggs, 1 1/2 cups milk and 1/4 cup melted shortening or oil. Add all at once to corn meal and mix until well blended. It is a necessary, and up to 1 1/2 cup more milk to make medium-thick batter. Fill baking dishes or pan. Bake 25 to 30 minutes or until browned.
